2025
CALROSSIE SAUVIGNON BLANC
MARLBOROUGH

Steeped in history, Coopers Creek have been crafted from New Zealand's best grape growing regions for over 40 years. With a legacy of making great wines we are proudly family owned and sustainably produced – protecting our lands for future generations.

TASTING NOTES

This pale green wine features pungent aromas of fresh snow pea, lime leaf and jalapeño. Underlying tropical nuances of crunchy nectarine and a 'sea spray' marine suggestion. The palate is as fresh and driven as the nose. Mid weight with refreshing acidity and wonderful concentration. Extra richness and complexity is coming from the barrel aged portion. Match with salade Chevre or spicy Thai dishes liberally laced with lemongrass, ginger and lime.

VITICULTURE AND WINEMAKING

We crafted this Coopers Creek Select Vineyard Sauvignon Blanc from multiple blocks within our Calrossie vineyard, each contributing to the final expression of the wine. Our goal is to bring these flavours from grape to bottle with minimal interference. This begins with harvesting in the cool evening to retain fruit purity and freshness. In the winery, the fruit receives 2–3 hours of skin contact before gentle pressing, building structure while avoiding fining to preserve natural character. Fermentation takes place in stainless steel using a selection of yeasts to enhance aromatics while adding savoury notes, weight, and texture. While primarily tank fermented, approximately 8% was barrel fermented and aged. Individual vineyard parcels were kept separate throughout vinification, with multiple blending sessions undertaken to refine the final wine. This Select Vineyard Sauvignon Blanc represents our expression of the 2025 vintage from Calrossie.
